PIRATES HOOKED Bought a Kodi box? You're probably under investigation, UK's official copyright protectors warn

As UK officials try to tackle copyright infringement, people who buy illegal IPTV boxes 'may be investigated'

KODI box owners "may be investigated" as part of a crackdown on copyright material across the UK.

That's according to the chief executive of FACT, the federation against copyright theft, who warned that soon "some poor, unfortunate person may be the first that is made an example of".

Recent European Court of Justice ruling means:

Anyone caught streaming TV shows, films and sports events illegally using websites, torrents and Kodi add-ons could technically face a decade behind bars.
